Advertising the State of Maine by Colored Lantern Slides

Two of the most important advertising contacts yet made in the history of the Maine Picture Bureau have been completed by Manager Harrie B. Coe. A set of twenty-five colored lantern slides have been furnished Dr. W. L. Markham, a well known lecturer of Jamestown, N. Y. Dr. Markham specializes in lectures to high school children and scientists. Therefore his lectures have been confined to western territory, but owing to the demand for a lecture on Maine because of the interest developed in the State of Maine and the fact that he is to prepare a lecture on New England covering its scenic, historic and industrial values. He asked the Bureau to furnish him with not over twenty-five slides, so that the showing might be easily distributed among the six New England states in an evening's lecture.

For the past two years, cinematographs have been carried by Mr. Coe with the Bell & Howell Company of Chicago who manufacture practically all of the standard cameras used by the moving picture producers. Mr. Coe has purchased amateur film cameras. The purpose of these negotiations was to see if they could be induced to add to their library, the half dozen slides which are now being assembled during the past four years. He has received the utmost cooperation from Pathé, Paramount and Fox News Reel people, whose slides are now shown in the theatres. Whenever they have made a standard 35 mm film in Maine, they have made it possible for Mr. Coe to have a print of the film in the 16 mm size. The footage has been purchased by films made by Mr. Coe and other amateurs in various parts of the United States with whom he has come in contact through the Maine Picture Bureau. The Maine Picture Bureau for their visit to Maine.

Two of the reels are made up of scenic views along the coast and among the lakes, rivers and mountains with interesting trout and salmon fishing scenes, together with agricultural and industrial subjects including harvesting the blueberry in Washington County; the cranberry in Aroostook County; the soda industry at Eastport; the lobster industry at Hancock; the lime and cement industry at Rockland; the granite and marble industry at Bowdoinham and other subjects.

taldin", another one shows the winter sports carnival at Rimfjord and several winter recreation spots. The last film races at Poland Spring and then takes the audience for a trip through the various stages of a lumbering operation in the Maine woods. The last film in the show shows fishing scenes in the Jackman, Lake Parlin Country and the 40 mile bay trip from Jackman secured through the courtesy of Mr. Hiram Smith, president of the Amateur League. Another film, which is perhaps the star of the lot is "Cancelling the West Branch of the Penobscot" showing the canoeing and camping trip on the West Branch from Schoomoo to Norcross through the Mt. Katahdin country and surrounding scenery.

forests and a remarkable forest fire scene introduced as propaganda on forest protection. This film and the one of lumbering were obtained through the cooperation and courtesy of F. A. Gilbert, former General Manager of the Syracuse Wood Department of the Great Northern Paper Company, who very kindly allowed Mr. Coe to have the small size print made from the standard 35 mm. roll. Mr. Coe helped direct when the film was working with the Great Northern Paper Company after the World War.

This latter film has established such a reputation that a retired lumberman from from Newport, Maine, and who is an amateur moving picture fan, was so impressed with the showing of the film, that he asked if he might be permitted to make a copy of it, which he did last summer. He afterwards wrote Mr. O'Neil that he had shown it to Shriners in the principal cities on his trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific and that he would also show it at Boston. Mr. O'Neil, a prominent Botanist, in many of the Pacific Coast cities, as he regarded it as one of the most remarkable films he had ever seen.

A film, now in process of assembling, shows the Allegian. Some trip and a number of its wild life and decorative objects to be used in connection with a lecture

Through correspondence with people who have used a motion picture camera in Maine this summer and whose name and address was furnished to Mr. Coe by hotel or camp proprietors, an exchange of films has been arranged so that during the winter our Maine films will be shown before groups of winter visitors in the cities of the eastern section of the United States. A letter received only last week from the New England Society of Maplewood, N. J., asked for the films to be shown before its 150 members.

A contact has been made with a clergy-season of 1927 in the Maine woods with a moving picture camera, and also with professional and business men in three different cities in New England, one in New York State and one in Newark, N. J., for an exchange of films so that they can use them in a lecture course which they are giving in their own and neighboring States.

A letter was received from ex-Governor Carl E. Milliken, now secretary of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, suggesting a conference practical means of securing a much wider circulation for these films. These films have been edited and retitled by Mr. One and a duplicate set has been given to the Bell & Howell people. They have agreed to include them in their library of releases made through their representatives in all parts of the United States and many foreign countries. They have also agreed to report to Mr. One through their district representatives. The films are shown and the number and character of people who have seen them.

The Directors of the Maine Publicity Bureau feel that this is one of its outstanding accomplishments for the season that while the making of the picture ly easy, their entire value is governed by the opportunity for release. It is, of course, practically impossible to have such films shown in the moving picture theatres because such showing is controlled by the News Reel people. The Bell & Howell Company have thousands of distributors and the accomplishment of releases through them means advertising for the State of Maine by pictures which could not be purchased in money.

What Uncle Lem Says

The winter is swiftly passing away and the Legislature does not seem to be accomplishing anything of moment towards relieving the burdens of taxation. On the other hand in several cases bills have been introduced to increase salaries, strange as this may appear. The cost of living is going down under the pressure of the hard times and there is no cause whatever for increased salaries or wages. It is evident that the tax payers, to obtain any relief, must depend upon their selves in their town meetings by a drastic cut of appropriations, but here the tax boosters and high jackers are likely to still manage affairs, in which case there will be additional burdens imposed and no relief obtained. These disreputable creatures will, however, be watched more closely than heretofore and publicly denounced. They are the only ones who stand in the way of needed relief.

What an exhibition of small bore political antics is seen in Congress today. Nick Longworth, Speaker of the House of Representatives, has turned against the President. And what is his calibur as a statesman? It is negligible. And how did he happen to obtain the position, one filled so ably by Henry Clay, James G. Blaine and Tom Reed? He was the son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt and to placate his followers in the party Longworth was elected Speaker. Comment is unnecessary, but it's as plain as a pike-staff that the party must be re-organized, and men selected for their ability and worth, for leaders, if it is to endure.

The thoughtful and patriotic citizen must look confidently in and regard for the American Legion, for not keeping their pledges about the bonus. Your Uncle Lemuel was never in favor of such a measure. He believed in pensions for the disabled soldiers, for the Civil War veterans. And does any sensible person doubt that it will ultimately come to that, notwithstanding all the pledges made to obtain the bonus and insurance? —Uncle Lem.

What SOCONY is doing for Socony Employees

From an Editorial in Buffalo Courier-Express, February 9, 1931

APENSION and industrial insurance system which government aiders and the public generally might well study with profit, has been announced by the Standard Oil Company of New York. The effect of it will be, briefly, that an employee retiring after 35 years of service will receive as an annuity about 70 per cent of his average pay.

"In 1903 the Standard of New York started the annuity plan which the new system displaces. At that time it had 8,000 employees; it now has 45,000.

"Under the Standard's new system, men are to be retired at the age of 65 and women at the age of 55, on annuities that will amount, roughly, to 2 per cent of their average previous salary multiplied by the number of years in the company's service. Provision is also made, independently of the pension feature, for death and disability benefits. Both the company and the employees contribute to the cost of the insurance, the company paying about three-fourths and the employees about one-fourth.

"The Standard's new plan is an important contribution to the movement all over the world to assure economic independence to old age. Moreover, those who are of little faith as regards our financial future might well take some comfort from the confidence which the Standard manifests by investing at this time so heavily in annuity insurance for its employees."

SWEDEN—BLACK MOUNTAIN

Mrs. Freeman Dyer and children went to Bridgton with Mrs. Floyd Whitehouse, last Thursday.

Henry and Mrs. Harry Moore and daughter were at Bridgton one day last week. William Mahaney has a job working for Tom Hall in the woods, here in Sweden.

Richard Berry has finished working for Richard Douglass and is now working in the woods here in Sweden for Scott Wentworth.

Mrs. Freeman Dyer and children called on Mrs. Harry Moore, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tower were in Bridgton last Thursday.

Guy Tower saved some wood to Bridgton for John Weeman last week.

Guy Tower saved some logs out for Arthur Evans of West Bridgton, last week, and also for Benjamin Russell of Center Lovell.

Minnie Moore was a caller at Mrs. William Mahaney's and Mrs. Guy Tower's last Friday.

Mrs. Floyd Whitehouse is very much improved and so as to be out again.

I often wonder if there is such a thing as perfect contentment in this world. I feel like saying no, it doesn't exist in the human heart.

A talk was given by Mr. J. E. McIntire, two weeks ago. Leslie H. E. McIntire gave a very interesting talk on the general conditions of our country at present.

TAG DAY

W. C. T. U. Needs Funds

Town meeting day, next Monday, will also be Tag Day for the W. C. T. U., conducted by the senior girls of the high school, who will make a house to house canvass with tags and boxes.

Large contributions will be very acceptable to the W. C. T. U. at this time as there have been greater demands for the purchase of a new printer and more funds are badly needed.

Mrs. Nettie Nevers has charge of the Tag Day arrangements.

BIG SMELTS NOT BITING

Instead of assisting in the "Little Hatcher, Brigade" at the Weeries last Monday, P. Y. Fogg and Shortie Panefu went to East Sebago, smelt fishing. There was probably a hundred other fishermen on the bar that day.

Two fish did the Norway party get. They lost a portion of bait and broke one hook. Came home filled with glee over the fact that no one got any smelts.

Miss Virginia Weeks and Miss Dorota Weeks of Everett, Mass., are spending the week with their cousin, Mrs. Manford Mann.

Members of Veterans will meet in regular session, Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at K. P. Hall. There will be a short program to observe Washington's birthday, and members are asked to have a message. Entertainment. Further plans will be made for the town meeting dinner.

SECRET

"Kick In," K

A Real Criminal Story Large Audience Wednesday

Attempted gun play, a flash of hand-to-hand, personal violence and intrigue were brought off in a cross section of the tenderloin or a city underworld during the drama "Kick In" at Norway Opera House, Wednesday evening.

The play, entirely different from other productions, by a cast of Norway talent, had a decidedly criminal complex during the four acts. Two scenes were played in police headquarters and two acts were set up town into the apartments of Chick and Molly Hewes, where criminals were befriended.

Two men, Diamond and Dave, called tough dames, dicks and hard boiled bulls all featured in this underworld story placed for Pemesscawasse Lodge, K. of P., under the direction of Harold A. Anderson.

The section involved found a diamond ring in the possession of a man who was in attempts to draw a net around the gang responsible for the job. Fate cheated him in the death of the thief, leaving a trail of circumstantial evidence pointing strongly to innocent persons, none an ex-convict going straight.

Gulvin Emerson was a hard boiled police officer, named Galey, strong on the third degree, but with one soft spot in his heart, which was touched at the climax of the last act.

Harold A. Anderson went strong in the role of a police officer, a man of law and ferret. He was officious, unscrupulous and a double-crosser, hoping to gain the admiration. A fight with Chick in the approval of the jury was realistic and made the jury believe that the man really gave them a shot with the hypo needed for a knock-out.

William Kilgore impersonated an ex-convict, a man of law and ferret, a "up river" but reformed and was going straight. Out of the goodness of his heart, his apartments were open to 'rats' who came there time and after their release needed.

There was one link in the chain of circumstantial evidence about the story of the crime entrusted by the police, that directed from the information around his visitors.

Miss Madelyn Hayden was Molly Hayden, Chick's wife, who kept faith with her husband and eventually impressed her story on the jury.
